Teenagers arrested after building fire

Funding boost to revive town's historic streets

Residents urged to stick to new lockdown rules

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire have been urged to follow new government imposed lockdown rules after a spike in coronavirus cases in the region.

The new measures came into force at midnight on Monday, September 21 and means locals can no longer socialise with other people outside of their own households or their support bubble in private homes and gardens.

Hospitality for food and drink will be restricted to table service only and restaurants, pubs, and cinemas are required to close by 10pm.

People are also asked to only use public transport for essential purposes, such as travelling to school or work and to avoid attending amateur and semi-professional sporting events as spectators.

These restrictions are in addition to the 'rule of six' limiting the number of people who can gather indoors or outdoors to six.

This is compared to neighbouring boroughs, including Liverpool and Knowsley, where infection rates seem to be at a higher level according to local data.

West Lancashire Borough Council Leader Ian Moran said: "It's really sad that these new measures have had to be introduced which have been imposed on us without consultation by national government.

"I would urge everyone in West Lancashire to stick to the new rules so we can beat coronavirus together. If we don't we could face further restrictions or even a full local lockdown."

If anyone has symptoms and chooses not to self-isolate, they could be fined up to £10,000 in England.

This will apply to people who either get a positive test or is contacted by the Test and Trace system. Fines for breaches will start at £1,000 - but could rise to £10,000 for repeat offences and for the most egregious exceptions.

FORMER FOOTBALL STADIUM CLUBHOUSE DESTROYED IN BLAZE

Town is hit by second major fire in less than a week

Report by Tom Martin

A SECOND major fire in less than a week in Skelmersdale saw a former football stadium go up in flames in another suspected arson attack.

The disused ground, on Selby Place at Stanley Industrial Estate, was at the centre of a huge blaze on Sunday, September 20 at around 5pm.

Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service say they will investigate the cause of the flames with it believed to be started deliberately.

It happened only four days after another major fire less than two miles away at the old Co-op premises, on Westgate (see story on page 3).

The stadium used to be the home of Skelmersdale United until the club left three years ago after failing to agree a new lease with owners Chequer Properties. A spokesperson for Lancashire Fire and Rescue said: "Four fire engines, alongside an aerial ladder platform, were called to a fire at a derelict building on Selby Place.

"Firefighters used one ground monitor, one lance and one jet to extinguish the fire. No injuries were reported and the cause of the fire is under investigation."

After Skelmersdale United left the Selby Place stadium, they had to ground share with Prescott Cables, but have now moved back into the town playing at the JMO Sports Park.

The stadium was last used as a training ground for Southport FC, but has been disused ever since.

Shotgun found by police during open land search could be linked to shooting

Report by Tom Martin

A SHOTGUN has been found by police during an 'open area search' after a man was shot in Skelmersdale.

The Champion reported last week how a man in his 20s was shot in the leg in the Ennerdale area at around 9.30pm on Sunday, September 6.

Officers arrested three men – aged 20, 27 and 36 and all from Skelmersdale – on suspicion of attempted murder.

They have all been released on bail until October 6.

Last week, the possible weapon used in the shooting was found by police during a search of land off Stannought Road on Tuesday, September 15.

Detectives are continuing to appeal for information and are asking anybody who witnessed the incident or knows who may be responsible to get in touch as soon as possible.

They also confirmed that patrols have been increased in the area to reassure local residents

The shotgun attack happened near Ennerdale

as soon as possible.

"Perhaps you were in the area and saw all or part of what happened, or perhaps you have heard something and believe you know who may be responsible.

"Whatever information you have we would urge you to get in touch with us."

Anybody with information is asked to get in touch on 101, quoting log number 1589 of September 6th.

Alternatively independent charity Crimestoppers can be contacted on 0800 555 111 or at crimestoppers-uk.org.

Teenagers arrested after huge blaze at former bank building

Report by Tom Martin

THREE teenagers have been arrested after a huge blaze destroyed a former bank building in Skelmersdale.

The fire erupted at the old Co-op premises on Westgate at around 7.45pm on Tuesday, September 15 and Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service believe it was arson.

Lancashire Police have arrested two boys and a girl, aged 13 and 14, on suspicion of criminal damage - arson not endangering life.

It is believed that a group of youngsters were inside the empty building and started the fire before fleeing the scene on foot.

A total of eight fire engines were called out to the scene to tackle the flames and nearby residents and businesses were told to close their windows as a safety precaution against the smoke.

Local residents were not only concerned about the smoke, but also asbestos. Peter Sweeney, who described the fire as "crazy", said: "It wasn't just the danger of the fire, it was the asbestos in the air you had to worry about. You can see the flames you can't see asbestos."

The remains of the former bank. Picture by Andy Walker

It took around four hours to extinguish the flames and firefighters were still there the following day to get rid of "small pockets of fire."

The building has been derelict for several years but there are plans to demolish it and build an Aldi supermarket on the land.

Fresh calls for nurses to get pay rise for efforts over pandemic

A SKELMERSDALE councillor is calling on the government to make a "fair pay increase" for nurses in West Lancashire.

In July, the government revealed plans for around 900,000 public sector workers in the UK to get pay rises of up to 3.1% in recognition of their 'vital contribution' during the coronavirus pandemic.

This included police officers, doctors, teachers, prison officers, National Crime Agency staff, members of the judiciary and senior civil servants.

However, nurses were not included because they negotiated a separate three-year wage increase in 2018.

County Councillor Julie Gibson, the Lancashire County Labour Group Shadow Cabinet

Member for Economic Regeneration, wants nurses to get the same treatment.

She said: "I have put forward a motion to the October meeting of the Full Council of Lancashire County Council to call on the government to reconsider its decision not to increase NHS nurses pay in Lancashire.

"During the worst times of the pandemic, nurses in Lancashire, and across the country, were at the forefront of the efforts to deal with the effects of Covid often in very challenging times. Many of them made personal sacrifices, such as not seeing their own families, to ensure those affected got the care that they needed.

"The weekly 'clap for carers' brought us all together to recognise those efforts, but we need to recognise that clapping alone does not put food on the table for many of these low paid workers and their families.

"Since 2018, nurses in Lancashire have received pay rises of only 1%. They clearly demonstrated their worth and were supported by people and politicians all across Lancashire.

"The motion calls on the Chief Executive to write to the Prime Minister asking him to recognise the work carried out by all nurses in Lancashire and to award them a pay increase in recognition of the fantastic work that they have done; I hope that all Councillors will be able to support it."

Drains finally cleared on flood-hit street following damage caused to homes

Report by Tom Martin

A HIGHWAYS drain located on a flood-hit street in Burscough has been inspected and cleared by Lancashire County Council.

Flash floods in August caused misery for residents in parts of Ormskirk and the Champion reported how many locals suffered damage to their homes due to the heavy rainfall.

Crabtree Lane, in Burscough, was one of the worst affected streets and the council recently investigated the drains on this particular road and they managed to clear a blockage in the culvert near the properties.

MP Rosie Cooper, who has been calling on the relevant authorities to solve the ongoing flooding problem in the area, has welcomed the drain works.

She said: "I am pleased that Lancashire County Council have come and inspected their drainage and in doing so found a blockage which they subsequently cleared to allow water to now flow freely through drains on Crabtree Lane.

"However, I and local residents remain frustrated that this inspection and clearance is only done as a reaction to properties having been flooded.

"I have further written to Lancashire County Council asking when the last time they came to inspect, and to increase the frequency of their inspection schedule especially in areas of previous flooding.

"Homes can not be allowed to flood while the drains outside their properties which could alleviate some of that pressure are blocked.

Residents of Crabtree Lane, Bernie Webster, Peter Curl with another neighbour with Bernie's pump in his garden

"I accept that this one drain won't resolve all the flooding issues across Burscough or even across all the properties on Crabtree Lane, but at the very least it will afford some homes protection some of the time, or at least buy residents time to enact their flood defence measures.

"I continue to correspond with the agencies and specifically LCC and Network Rail about the management and maintenance of culverts running under the rail line, to ensure that these are operating effectively to add further flood alleviation to the area."

The Champion reported last month how one resident on Crabtree Lane, Bernie Webster, had water flood into his home.

This is despite the resident having his own flood defence in his garden after he dug up the length of his garden to install drainage pipes and set up three automatic electronic pumps to move flood waters away from his property into a neighbouring field.

Path cut off near home development 'forces children to walk in road'

Report by Tom Martin

CHILDREN walking to school and other pedestrians are being forced to cross a busy road after a footpath was cut off by an ongoing housing development.

Gleeson Homes are in the middle of building 72 homes at the former Skelmersdale Sports Centre, on Digmoor Road.

Members of the public have complained after a fence was erected to stop access along a pathway next to the site, meaning passers-by have no choice but to cross the busy road to continue their journey.

It is a well-used route, because the path leads from the bus stop on Gillibrands Road at Daniels Lane/Almond Tree to the pedestrian crossing over Digmoor Road to Banksbarn.

Parents from Banksbarn have been particularly concerned as many children use this crossing to get to the bus stop for school in the mornings and evenings.

The situation has been described as "dangerous" by West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper, who has written to both Lancashire County Council and Gleeson Homes.

She said: "It is an utter disgrace that residents of Digmoor are treated with such flagrant disregard by Gleeson Homes and Lancashire County Council who appear to think it is acceptable to force pedestrians to walk on the highway.

"By closing this section of footpath they leave pedestrians with no other option to walk between the Almond Tree bus stop and the 'Bs' than to walk on the busy main road.

"This includes children now who use the bus for their daily commute to school, and there has clearly been no consideration either for those in wheelchairs or prams, the elderly, or anyone it seems! I have written to both LCC and Gleeson asking that this situation be resolved urgently before someone is injured or killed."

The site, which has been empty since 2013 following the closure of the sports centre and subsequent fire and demolition, has since been purchased by the property developer Gleeson Homes.

Gleeson were successful in securing planning permission from West Lancashire Borough Council, which included a financial benefit to the council of more than £500,000 through the New Homes Bonus.

Have your say on changes to short break offer

LANCASHIRE County Council is giving parents and carers the opportunity to have their say on proposed changes to its short break offer for young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

A six-week consultation began on Wednesday, September 2 and parents and carers have until 5pm on Wednesday, October 14 to share their views.

The short break offer consists of activities and services that can be accessed by children with SEND and their families if children meet the eligibility criteria.

Some activities and services can be accessed without a social care assessment of need. These include SEND activities, groups and events specifically for children and young people, which are part of the Early Help Offer and Lancashire Break Time.

The Short Break Offer also includes day and night time support and services which can only be accessed through social care assessment of need.

There has been a review of these services, where council officers worked alongside parents and carers, children and young people, short break service providers and other partners to consider how the service should look in the future. A more joined-up offer is proposed, made up of three elements – Break Time, Day Time and Night Time.

County Councillor Phillipa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "This is another important opportunity for parents and carers to have their say about vital short break services we provide for children with special educational needs and disabilities.

"The proposed changes are based on work we've done with young people who use the services, their families, and the care providers."

To take part in the consultation online, visit the website: <https://is.gd/RWdyUh> or email cyp-shortbreaks@lancashire.gov.uk or call 01772 531 597 for a printed version of the questionnaire.

Plans to improve historic high streets in Ormskirk given £755k funding boost

Report by Tom Martin

PLANS to revive historic high streets in Ormskirk have been given a major boost after a £755,000 fund was secured by West Lancashire Borough Council.

The money is coming from Historic England and will be added to the "significant amounts of funding" already put forward by both the borough council and Lancashire County Council.

It will go towards the High Street Heritage Action Zone (HAZ) programme in Ormskirk, which will be delivered across the next four years.

The HAZ scheme aims to create lasting improvements to town centres for the communities who use them by supporting economic and cultural growth, and enhancing local historic character.

Some of the match funding allocated includes improvements to the bus station and further improving the public realm in Moor Street and other parts of the town centre.

Councillor Ian Moran, Leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, has welcomed the new funding and says the council is always looking to find sources of income for both Ormskirk and Skelmersdale.

He said: "This is great news and will help us build on the proud heritage Ormskirk has."

"This scheme was for historic town centres and high streets, which is why the council bid for Ormskirk. We are ambitious for the whole of West Lancashire and constantly looking for external funding schemes that might be used to enhance different areas."

"Prior to the pandemic construction work had begun on the Skelmersdale town centre regeneration scheme and we have been in discussions with the owners of the Concourse Shopping Centre on possible future phases of development."

The High Street Heritage Action Zone is an initiative from Historic England to use a place's heritage to create economic growth and improve quality of life to help revive high streets.

Working with local people, partners and Historic England, the borough council wants to breathe new life into Ormskirk town centre which they say is rich in heritage and full of promise.

They hope the programme will "unlock Ormskirk's

Improving the public realm on Moor Street is part of the plans and (left) borough council leader Ian Moran potential" and make the area more attractive to residents, businesses, tourists and investors.

The programme will be delivered through joint-working, grant funding and sharing the skills of experts at Historic England.

The High Street Heritage Action Zone programme will include physical improvements and cultural activities to help to regenerate Ormskirk town centre.

The council will be working with local partners to develop and deliver this by implementing projects that draw upon and enhance the town's historic character.

Projects included within the programme are the improvements to public realm areas, enhanced connectivity to access the town centre by walking, cycling and public transport and visual improvements to alleyways and public realm, to better highlight the town's heritage.

An associated cultural programme focussed on working with communities and local cultural organisations in developing site-specific events will also be designed to encourage local people to engage with the heritage on their high street.

The Champion has previously reported how Ormskirk is one of 69 towns which were chosen to receive a share of the £95 million earmarked for The High Street Heritage Action Zone.

Rail firm urges people to only use trains for 'essential travel'

MERSEYRAIL has issued updated travel advice to local train commuters following the new lockdown restrictions.

The new guidance is that public transport is only for essential travel, such as travelling to and from school or work.

Andy Heath, Managing Director at Merseyrail, said: "As new restrictions come into place, we all must play our part to fight the spread of Covid-19."

"I would like to remind those passengers travelling with us for work and education to please follow our travel advice and ensure that they wear a face covering for the duration of their journey – including at stations – for the safety of themselves, fellow passengers and our staff."

Passengers who do need to use Merseyrail services are advised to follow safety advice to protect themselves, other passengers, and staff, which includes wearing face coverings, use contactless payments where possible and avoid peak travel.

Full timetables and details can be found on the Merseyrail website, and passengers are encouraged to check before they travel. This can be done by visiting www.merseyrail.org, the Merseyrail Twitter account @merseyrail or by sending a message on WhatsApp on 0151 555 1111.

APPEAL FOR WITNESSES

Parents delighted after charity reopens to support children with disabilities

Rainbow Hub had been closed since March due to lockdown

By Danielle Thompson

A CHARITY in Mawdesley which supports local children with disabilities has reopened following the pandemic.

Rainbow Hub provides therapeutic services for children and young people with physical disabilities as a result of a neurological condition or brain injury.

The facility, on Salt Pit Lane, has welcomed children and their families back for the first time since March.

Staff had to close their buildings in March due to pandemic and the vulnerability of the children with disabilities they support.

Weeks of planning and changes to procedures have been put in place with a range of measures designed to keep the children safe whilst they continue the life-changing therapies.

Joanne Ashcroft, head of conductive education services at Rainbow Hub, said: "Covid-19 has had a huge impact on us all, especially the children and families who normally come to Rainbow Hub. "For most of them their usual care, respite and therapies stopped which wasn't good for their physical or mental health.

Emma and Alice Hunter

"We did all we could to support them and their families through virtual sessions but it's wonderful to see their gorgeous faces back at Rainbow Hub."

The new procedures are extensive, following NHS guidance, and include all staff wearing visors in sessions with children and portable hand sanitisers.

Alice Hunter, whose daughter Emma, three, attends Rainbow Hub, said: "It is just a relief to be back – it feels like some sort of normality is returning. To have people who are interested in Emma and care about her and to be back where we belong is amazing."

Lyndsay Fahey, interim chief executive at Rainbow Hub, said: "We are delighted that we are able to open again and welcome the children and their families. Lockdown has been particularly hard for them as they rely, not only for the therapy to improve their child's physical health, but also for support from a team that understands the challenges of caring for a child with significant additional needs.

"It is so important to them that we continue to deliver the services that make such a difference to their lives as their needs don't go away because there's a pandemic."

Tongbarn Convenience Store

Corner shop staff terrorised by gang of yobs

Report by Tom Martin

STAFF at a corner shop in Skelmersdale say they are being terrorised by yobs who steal and cause damage to the building.

Owners of Tongbarn Convenience Store contacted the Champion to say they are fed up of young gangs targeting their business.

They said it has escalated in recent weeks to the point that they are considering closing the shop in an effort to protect staff.

On September 12, they claim a group of 4-8 teenagers aged around 15 years old broke into the store at around 9pm.

On September 14 another group returned to "cause trouble" and a window was smashed.

In another incident, they entered the shop and started throwing onions at the staff behind the till.

A spokesperson said: "They have caused several incidents where they were shop lifting and at another time throwing onions

Damage caused to the window of the store behind the till at the staff.

Edge Hill reassures students despite rise in coronavirus cases

EDGE Hill University say they are still "open and ready to welcome" students despite increased restrictions announced by the government.

There have been new rules brought in this week by the government following a rise in Covid-19 cases.

But staff at Edge Hill are still looking forward to welcoming new and returning students.

A statement on the university's website said: "We want to reassure you that the university is open and ready to welcome you this autumn.

"Our campus has been fully open for a number of weeks, with Post-graduate students arriving to begin their studies at the beginning of September.

"Throughout the course of the pandemic, Edge Hill University has been working closely with Public Health bodies, the local councils, Lancashire Resilience Forum and other part-

Work to rebuild community hall set to start next month

HESKETH Bank Community Centre staff have confirmed the redevelopment of their 'Back Hall' will start with demolition works in October followed by the rebuild in November.

It is hoped for an opening date in the early New Year.

Steve Kirby, Chair, said: "After successfully securing all the funds for the project we can now finally move forward with the redevelopment.

"Thank you to everyone who has helped us get to this point."

The Trustees - Steve Kirby, Mike and Sue Ellis, Bill Hall and Diane Earles (pictured right) - are keen to help with the demolition so decided to get some practice in before the big day!

How do you think we should spend CIL monies?

West Lancashire Borough Council want to know your views on how the money we are collecting from new development through the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) should be spent in 2021/22. The money we collect must be used to improve infrastructure such as parks, play areas, outdoor sports facilities, cycle paths, transport projects and community facilities which are needed because of an increased demand for them created by new development in the Borough.

Supporting development across the Borough

The majority of CIL monies must be used for projects across the Borough. We are saving the bulk of the monies to use on large and costly projects in the future which take time to save up for. However, each year we will use up to £200,000 to fund smaller projects across the Borough. We have put forward a shortlist of projects that the available money might be spent on in 2021/22. These projects are:

- £40,000 for improvements to the Cheshire Lines Path, Downholland
- £30,000 to extend the play area provision at Long Heyes, Skelmersdale
- £50,000 to provide environmental and access improvements at Delph Clough, Elmers Clough and Westheads Clough, Skelmersdale
- £19,000 to replace the play area at Helmsdale, Skelmersdale
- £31,555 to fund the Dial-a-Ride transport service for one year, Borough-wide

A further £385,000 is proposed for towpath improvements between Parbold and Appley Bridge. This project requires over £100,000 of CIL and so would be funded through the saved strategic CIL funds that the Council holds.

Supporting development in Ormskirk

A smaller amount of CIL monies are used for projects in local areas, which are usually decided on by the parish council. In those areas without a parish council, like Ormskirk, the Council must decide what projects are awarded CIL local funding after consulting with local people. This year, funding is available in Ormskirk and so we have shortlisted two projects for Ormskirk, which are:

- £58,000 for improvements to West End playing field, Ormskirk
- £10,000 for a play area extension at Halsall Lane Park, Ormskirk

Have your say

We want to know your views on how CIL money should be spent in 2021/22. Do you agree with the projects we've shortlisted? Which projects should we choose? Are there any other projects we should consider? Your comments will help us decide what we use CIL monies on in 2021/22.

We invite comments from everyone on the Borough-wide projects. However, due to Government guidance, only those who are resident or work in Ormskirk should comment on the use of local CIL on Ormskirk projects.

Send us your comments between Thursday 24 September and Friday 23 October 2020.

To find more information, including a list of all the other schemes we have considered before making our shortlist, visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/cfp. You can give us your comments online through our easy to use consultation portal – also available at that web address.

Don Warburton

Salvationist to walk 150 miles for Queenscourt

By Danielle Thompson

LONG-TIME Salvationist Don Warburton has put his best foot forward for charity – by starting a month-long fundraiser of walking 150 miles to support Queenscourt Hospice.

Over the years, the Salvation Army in Southport has maintained a long association with Queenscourt Hospice, periodically sponsoring fund-raising events, providing voluntary support plus regular visits by the band to play to both patients and staff.

Like most charities, however, Queenscourt, which looks after patients with life-limiting conditions from across Southport, Formby and West Lancashire – is suffering financially due to the cancellation of various fund-raising initiatives caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

Recently, fundraisers at the hospice announced a 'socially distanced' fund-raising appeal, 'To the Moon and Back' asking members of the local community to commit themselves to undertake a sponsored activity such as gardening, swimming or walking, the activity to be completed during this month of September.

Salvationist Don Warburton, 78, has swapped his Salvation Army uniform for boots, joggers and a special T-shirt celebrating the life of a close friend who died at the hospice earlier this year.

He will walk five miles on each day of the month. Having already completed more than half of the distance he has already been pledged a total of £1,415 by friends and neighbours including members of the Salvation Army and the Botanic Bowling Club.

To donate and help the cause, email warburton602@btconnect.com to pledge sponsorship.

County council approves plan to create 1,000 extra care facilities by 2025

PLANS to provide new and innovative types of care for adults in West Lancashire have moved forward after Lancashire County Council approved funding measures.

Extra care schemes mean people can live more independently in their own home for longer, while having easy access to 24-hour care provided by workers based on the same site.

These are different to traditional care homes because people live in their own flat, which they rent or lease, and it includes communal services such as gyms, hair salons, cafes and function rooms. As these schemes are developed by independent providers, the county council has approved a way to fund facilities.

This involves housing providers securing grants from Homes England to fund the developments. The borrowing is serviced from rental incomes.

County Councillor Graham Gooch, cabinet member for adult services, said: "We plan to provide 1,000 new extra care units across Lancashire by 2025, with at least one scheme in each district.

"This funding approach gives housing providers the best way to access the funding they need to develop the schemes.

"The county council will work alongside them to develop the services, and deliver the care once they are up and running.

"We have set out how we need to provide more flexible forms of care for older people and adults with disabilities, instead of relying on long-term residential care in our Housing with Care and Support Strategy.

"Agreeing this new funding approach is a key part of our plans."

Bowling club given cash boost as a reward for helping combat loneliness

BURSCOUGH Bowling Club members have been left bowled over after they received a £1,000 donation!

Persimmon Homes has handed over the Community Champions cheque to Burscough Bowling Club for their efforts in helping to combat isolation and loneliness amongst older people.

Diane Finch, sales director for Persimmon Homes Lancashire, said: "The Community Champions match-funding initiative seeks to support grassroots groups and charities in areas where the company is building.

"Over recent months we have focused particularly on projects that help the over-70s, who are most affected by the lockdown, although we now invite applications from all charities, schools, clubs and voluntary groups across the region."

Burscough Bowling Club has been at the heart of the village for more than 125 years, providing a vital amenity for all ages, genders and physical abilities.

Persimmon's donation will help to fund improvements to the main pedestrian entrance to the bowling green for disabled access.

Persimmon Homes Lancashire makes two donations of up to £1,000 every month.

For any West Lancashire-based group that would like to apply, the online application form can be found at www.persimmonhomes.com/charity

Cycle to work scheme 'unfair'

By Danielle Thompson

Cleaner claims it 'discriminates against people on minimum wage'

A CLEANER claims a scheme set up to help employees become more healthy by cycling to work, is 'unfair and discriminatory' – as it cannot be used by people on the minimum wage.

Gary James, 59, from Southport, has worked for Orion Facilities Management for the last two years. He was excited when he saw online that the Cycle to Work scheme can be used to purchase bicycles and safety equipment and planned to use a bike as his preferred transport for work.

But, he says his employer told him he is not eligible for the scheme as he is on the minimum wage.

The Cycle to Work scheme is designed to help employees save money on a new work bike and spread the cost of the bike over monthly tax-free instalments through their employer.

But the scheme cannot be used if in doing so it would reduce an employee's gross pay below the National Minimum Wage.

HMRC's guidance recommends, that where an employer has staff near the NMW that the employee be offered a lower value cycle package, and/or a longer hire period to avoid the salary dropping below the NMW and the employee being excluded from the scheme.

Gary James

Mr James told the Champion: "I am fuming that the scheme cannot be used by those who work for the minimum wage – it's a joke. It is modern discrimination - why am I being punished for earning an honest wage?"

"Half the country earns the national minimum wage so why is it only being offered to those who, let's be honest, could afford a bike more easily?"

"The terms make out that I am incapable of managing my own finances, which is beyond rude. I pay all my bills on time and I can definitely budget long term for a bike!"

"If I spent a whopping £900 on a bike and equipment, just as an example, over 18 months, it's only £50 a month - are the government seriously saying I can't budget £12.50 a week?"

Orion Facilities Management declined to comment.

More cycling and walking lanes needed for a safer and healthier environment

Re: the recent letters of negativity surrounding the new Active Travel measures in Ormskirk.

Firstly, the idea that the cycle lane on St Helens Road is too short. The intention is to provide a safe cycle route to Edge Hill University, which is why they closed off Ruff Lane too. This makes perfect sense to me, especially as Our West Lancashire have been pursuing a safe route along here for several years now, as readers will be aware.

Secondly, regarding congestion, the St Helens Road/Moor Street junction is an Air Quality Management Area (i.e. it has illegally high levels of air pollution). Surely those shouting the loudest about congestion should be the ones shouting the loudest about providing long term solutions to reduce car usage in the town?

Thirdly, the scheme has not been funded from our council tax. It has been funded by the Department for Transport, as has every other similar scheme across England. But even if were funded through our council tax, let's say the scheme cost £50,000 with around one million taxpayers in Lancashire, that works out at 5p per head.

Considering how little has been spent on cycle and walking infrastructure historically, I would hardly say non-drivers are being lavished with infrastructure investment on a Dutch scale.

One only has to look at the decrepit state of the Cheshire Lines path, the canal towpaths (despite their popularity), the A59/A565 cycle lanes that start and end nowhere in particular, the lack of safe cycle routes between the three major towns, the derelict/overgrown cycle network of Skelmersdale, and the lack of safe pedestrian crossings where people need them the most.

Factor in the 1,800 deaths on our roads each year, the dangerous driving, pollution, and the lack of decent public transport, I'd say any money spent on cycling and walking is money well spent.

With 1,000 new homes currently under construction in Burscough, at the current rate, that's an extra 1200 cars on our roads in the next five years.

This isn't taking into account new housing developments in Skelmersdale and Banks, let alone the enormous plans for Maghull and north-east Sefton.

In summary, now is a bad time to be criticising the government for investing cycling and walking.

If we had a choice between creating healthier, safer neighbourhoods for our children to grow up in, or congested, road-rage ridden areas of rat runs and Range Rovers, which one would you choose?

Scott Mitchelton,
Ormskirk,

Long Lane needs to be 20mph zone

Well as life returns to some kind of normality, the traffic returns and is worse than ever.

I have worked full time during the pandemic but have the luxury of a week off this week.

As I sit here in my living room, there are cars, vans, tractors and lorries flying down Long Lane, some in excess of 50mph.

Lancashire County Council refuse to admit and realise there is a serious problem here.

I have spoken with a number of residents and enough is enough.

We are all feeling extremely anxious about this problem which could potentially lead to detriment to our health.

Black Moss Lane is 20mph so why not Long Lane?

This is a residential area and I warn you one final time, there will be a death here soon.

We all pay our taxes like most people in this area and deserve the right to be heard.

Pam Ward,
On behalf of Long Lane residents.

Make parking free in town centre for three to four hours

What warped thinking by the council to say the introduction of parking fees will draw more custom.

Evidently they have taken no notice, as usual, of the feedback from the retailers in the town as to how their customers have appreciated the free parking and how the town centre has improved since the removal of parking fees.

All the council needs to do to stop people abusing the system is to introduce free parking on the town centre car parks for three to four hours.

Over that, all day charges then apply, seems simple logic not something the council seem to use.

P J Scott,
By email

Skelmersdale can only dream of having rail links as good as Southport, Cllr Pugh

It strikes me Southport councillor John Pugh (Champion, September 9) doesn't know when his bread is well buttered.

Southport is royally served by one of the country's finest rail services, that is Merseyrail, linking them to a major rail hub in Liverpool and onward links to Liverpool airport.

In addition they have a line that takes them to Wigan, on the main inter-city route, plus onward links to Manchester and Manchester airport.

As one of the largest towns in the country without an existing rail route, the residents of Skelmersdale can only dream of having the rail links Mr Pugh and the residents of Southport currently enjoy.

Residents of Skelmersdale have had promises of a rail link for years and it seems a far off reality.

Mr Pugh needs to be thankful for what he has already and agree that there are priorities of need - which he and Southport are not one.

Barry Carr,
Skelmersdale

Barking dogs are so annoying

Why is it some dog owners, and I stress 'some', think it is acceptable to allow their dogs to bark constantly at anything day or night.

This is very inconsiderate ignorant and very, very selfish.

You have a dog for your own pleasure and not to annoy everybody else. What makes you think everybody else wants to listen to your dog?

I am a dog owner and would never dream of letting my dog annoy people, after all it's not rocket science to train them.

But, if you ask them politely to control the dog you just get abuse.

It's the same with people who think it is alright to let their dog jump up at you.

A bit of consideration for other people would be nice.

But, as usual in this day and age, people just do as they want and do not care for anybody else.

AT,
Sefton

Members of the Intensive Care team

Hospital staff nominated for national award for efforts during pandemic

Report by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of the intensive care team at Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust have been shortlisted for a Nursing Times award, thanks to the innovative ways team members worked during the peak of the pandemic.

Due to the pandemic, visiting this unit, in Southport Hospital, which cares for the most seriously sick patients, has been impossible since March.

This has been extremely challenging and upsetting for patients and families, and this inspired frustrated staff to find innovative solution.

One of their ideas was to create a short video of the unit, so that families could more easily visualise the situation their loved ones were in.

Matron for ICU Angie Westwood explained: "In more normal times, we pride ourselves on holding the hands, literally and emotionally, of our patients' families during their stay here.

"The environment is very different to other areas of the hospital and this can be frightening, but we know how to support people through this.

"When visiting had to stop, we had to think and act quickly to find new ways to support people.

"We created this video so that families could at least picture where their loved ones were being treated.

"We also made sure daily video calls happened, we updated families over the phone three times a day, and brought in extra measures for palliative patients.

"This included bereavement boxes which we hand-delivered to families, including a card written by the staff member who stayed with their loved one until they sadly died.

"I am immensely proud of every single person who worked in this unit over the last few months.

"Each one had to put their own concerns and worries aside, working tirelessly in the most challenging circumstances that any of us have ever experienced.

"I would like to offer my heartfelt thanks to each one of them, and say how much I think they deserve to win this award."

Local Slimming World: We are NOT a social group so we carry on with more than six

A weight has been lifted for local slimmers following the news that Slimming World groups can stay open despite new Coronavirus restrictions. A tightening of lockdown laws announced by Boris Johnson now makes it illegal for more than six people to gather together, following a spike in infection rates. But as the weekly weight-loss classes are not classed as social gatherings due to Slimming World being a commercial organisation, which operates fully in accordance with COVID-secure guidelines. Members must now book in advance to attend a session and all are being asked to wear masks, practice social distancing and use hand sanitiser on arrival.

Chairs and tables, as well as the weighing equipment, are all being cleaned between sessions and those attending are also asked not to take off their shoes for safety reasons. Tina Whewell, who runs sessions on a Saturday morning at the Scout & Guide hut in Aughton, said: "While the tighter guidance announced this week means that some social activities are being limited, we are pleased to say that our Slimming World groups can still get together. "That's because as well as the companionship that members love, we are providing a paid-for weight loss service.

"In group we're going to extra lengths to ensure that all hygiene and social distancing measures are firmly in place, including wearing face coverings during group and allowing extra time for cleaning before and in-between sessions to make sure we're all safe and sound." Slimming World's real-life groups re-opened in August after members were supported virtually through Zoom meetings since March.

In Tina's group alone, members shed a staggering 15 stone between them in the 2 weeks since being back. She said: "The weight losses alone have shown how much our members love being together in group and how powerful that experience is to achieving such great results. "There's nothing quite like the magic of our real-life groups, though, and research of our members during lockdown has shown that while our members have loved attending their virtual groups they've missed the motivational power and accountability of meeting in person each week.

"Obesity is a huge issue in the news at the moment with evidence showing that carrying extra weight makes it harder for the body to fight COVID-19, and the Government announcing brand-new plans to tackle obesity across the UK – which Slimming World are very proud to be part of. Plus, we know many people's routines were turned upside down by lockdown and lots of us have been feeling more worried or anxious than usual, all of which can have an impact on making healthy choices."

To book into a session or for more information, contact Tina on 07855 097 585.

Chief Constable Andy Rhodes.

Search is on to find new Chief Constable as top boss prepares to retire next year

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw has launched the search for a successor to Chief Constable Andy Rhodes.

Mr Rhodes has led the force since June 2017 and will retire in Spring 2021 following over 30 years of policing service within the county.

The Commissioner's nationwide search for the next Chief Constable will ensure a replacement is in post before Mr Rhodes steps down.

He praised the outgoing Chief Constable Andy Rhodes, saying: "During his time in charge of the Constabulary, Andy has continued to deliver an excellent policing service to Lancashire through a sustained period of austerity, and through his leadership the Constabulary was rated as 'outstanding' in 2020 by Government inspectors in relation to the efficient use of resources, and has ensured a strong position for his successor and for the people of Lancashire."

"It has been a privilege to work with such a committed and inspirational Chief Constable and together we have created a strong foundation on which to build."

"I am now looking for a Chief Constable who can build on the success to date and embrace our diverse communities and lead the Constabulary to deliver a service that meets the varied needs of the people of Lancashire."

The closing date for applications is October 16 and interviews are scheduled to take place in November.

The new Chief Constable will be expected to take up post in April 2021.

Further information and the application pack can be found at www.lancashire-pcc.gov.uk/chief-constable DURABLE - scratch resistant and more than tough enough to withstand everyday knocks and scratches.

TIMELESS - there is something about stone that never goes out of fashion.

EASILY INSTALLED - in less than a day with no mess.

Emma with some of her supporters after she completed the challenge

Emma runs incredible 825 miles in only eight weeks to help hospice

A TEACHER from Ormskirk ran an incredible 825 miles across an eight week period to raise money for charity.

Emma Anderson set herself the challenge of running the length of Great Britain over the summer in order to raise money for Queenscourt Hospice.

She began on June 20 and managed to reach the 825 miles in only eight weeks, which is an average of 14.7 miles per day.

Emma, who is a keen runner and member of Ormskirk parkrunners, ran the last ten miles of her challenge with her dad, Danny Fearn.

On the final three miles, she was joined by other running club members, who were able to cheer and congratulate her as she reached her target mileage.

Emma said: "I felt really emotional when I saw fellow parkrunners who had turned up to support me on my final run to complete the challenge."

So far, Emma has raised £825. If you would like to support Emma's challenge and donate to Queenscourt Hospice, visit the website: www.justgiving.com/fundraising/emma-anderson51

Queenscourt Hospice is a local charity that provides support for the people of West Lancs, Southport and Formby.

Freemasons group help raise £1m to help those affected by pandemic

Report by Tom Martin

Tony Harrison, leader of West Lancashire Freemasons

WEST Lancashire Freemasons, together with other branches across England and Wales, have raised more than £1 million to support those affected by the Covid-19 pandemic.

Despite the pandemic cancelling charity events and activities, Freemasons have used technology to keep raising money to support its national response.

Online and text donations have been pouring into the Freemasons' Covid-19 Community Fund from Freemasons up-and-down the country.

The half a million pounds raised from individual Freemasons and their Lodges is being doubled by the Masonic Charitable Foundation (MCF), the Freemasons' charity, bringing the fund's total to more than £1 million.

The total could exceed £2 million as donations continue to flood in.

This fundraising is in addition to the £2.5 million the MCF has already allocated to fund more than 50 local projects around the country, and a major grant donated more than 1,000 tablets to hospitals, made thousands of food donations to local food banks on a weekly basis, and cooked meals for the vulnerable and isolated.

In several cases local Freemasons have been directly involved in the manufacture of PPE using laser printers and cutters, while others have been delivering supplies to food banks and meals to vulnerable people in their areas.

There has also been a major donation of hundreds of tablets and smartphones to more than 50 hospitals, care homes and hospices, to help patients stay in touch with their families while normal visiting is suspended.

All this is in addition to the estimated £45 million that Freemasons across England and Wales give to charity every year and the 18.5 million hours of practical assistance they provide to those in need.

David Innes, Chief Executive of the MCF, said: "Covid-19 has created an unprecedented national crisis and I'm absolutely delighted that Freemasons have reacted with their usual generosity. A huge amount of critical support has already been provided and we'll continue to deliver help and support where it's most needed."

Cat with no tail gets another chance at finding a forever home

Animal sanctuary hopes it will be fourth time lucky for Bobby!

Report by Danielle Thompson

A CAT with no tail that was given back to an animal sanctuary three times has hopefully found his forever home!

The Champion has reported how the black and white domestic short hair cat was returned to Woodlands Animal Sanctuary, in Holmeswood, on three occasions.

But staff are now hopeful that Bobby has finally found his forever home.

A spokesperson said: "We are thrilled with the home Bobby has found for himself and we could not have wished for a more wonderful family for him."

"Given he was struggling with sanctuary life both the Woodlands team and his new family were surprised and relieved to see him settle in so quickly, being described as 'a member of the family after only a couple of days.'

"Bobby's family say he is 'wonderfully cuddly and has already become braver about being upstairs.'

"This is fantastic, because Bobby is going to be a house cat, with access to the garden, and so for him to have, and be comfortable with, the full run of the house means he can utilise all the space available to him, which will no doubt help his mental state."

"Bobby is currently getting comfortable to wearing a harness so that when the time comes for him to use the garden he can do so safely and confidently."

"Every success story the charity has means the world to us, because we are so aware of how the right home and family really can change the world of each animal.

"With all the animals Woodlands rehome we do our best to match people and animals so that everyone gets maximum enjoyment from the experience."

"Every cat is different, just as every family looking for a new fur baby is, and trying to get those matches just right, can be very tricky – but immeasurably rewarding."

"If you are thinking of welcoming a pet into your home and family, then please consider going to a rescue centre and looking at adults as well as the cute babies."

"No animal stays a cute baby forever, and giving a loving home to animal has either never known love, or has, but got it taken away from them, is just the best feeling."

To find out more about rehoming, please visit the website: www.woodlandsanimalssanctuary.org.uk

Viking-themed golf attraction planned for Pleasureland

Report by Danielle Thompson

PLANS have been submitted by chiefs at Southport Pleasureland for a new Viking-themed adventure golf attraction that will be 'nothing like anywhere in the UK.'

The firm has submitted plans to Sefton Council for an 18-hole adventure golf attraction with an associated 'longhouse' themed pub/eatery and parking.

Visitors will be able to enjoy an outdoor barbecue area in a circular format with a 'Firepit' in the centre of the building with terraced seating around a feature fire.

The proposal will create a brand new small scale visitor experience immediately adjacent to Pleasureland and owned and managed by them.

It aims to enhance the visitor experience and provide an additional offer for the key leisure based activity for the town.

Southport Pleasureland owner Norman Wallis said: "The Viking theme was chosen as the local area here is steeped in Viking history."

"Many of the local town names and even surnames are thought to have Viking origins – such as the surname Rimmer and place names such as Ormskirk, Altcar and so on."

"We are keen to create an attraction that is very exciting, with a really good atmosphere, but that also has local relevance so that it is both fun and educational."

"It will be a great place to come during the day and the evening for everyone, and will also make a great venue for corporate and private functions."

"It really is unique as there is nothing like this anywhere else in the UK, so we hope that it will help to attract more people to the local area to help the wider Southport, Sefton and Liverpool City Region economy."

How the Viking-themed adventure golf attraction will look.

ies."

A planning application which has been submitted shows the layout of the proposal with the majority of the site, currently used for car parking, being occupied by the low level golf/putting attraction. The design of each of the 18 holes is provided, split into four zones of Boat-yard, Marsh, Village Life and Market Place.

The proposal provides a themed pub eatery with a south-facing outdoor terrace area that provides additional seating and views over the themed golf attraction. This is served by an outdoor barbecue area in a circular format which can also serve the indoor seating.

In the centre of the building is a 'Firepit' in a circular format with terraced seating around a feature fire.

The site of the proposed attraction is located on Esplanade to the south-east corner of Pleasureland and opposite Dunes swimming baths.

Midwife swims in River Mersey to raise £2,300 for hospital

Report by Danielle Thompson

A PERINATAL mental health midwife, who works for Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, has conquered the impressive challenge of swimming across the River Mersey – and raised more than £2,300 with her efforts!

Keran Carter took on this challenge to raise money for the hospital's Maternity Bereavement Fund, which supports parents during a very difficult time.

All money raised will help the maternity unit to improve its bereavement suite facilities and resources, and to provide more support for families following their loss.

The mum of four said: "Our heart goes out to these women and their families at such a difficult time in their life. Wanting to improve our support for them is very close to our heart, we want to provide the best service possible."

"This is the fifth time I have done the swim for different charities, and each swim is unique with its own challenges.

"I love open water swimming and the Mersey Swim is one of the best you can do! Thank you to Liam Hanlon and Robin Baynes from Liverpool Heart Beatfor organising such a fantastic event!"

Trish Armstrong Child, Chief Executive at the Trust adds: "What an incredible achievement! Keran and her team do such important work, we are incredibly proud of them all. Thank you Keran for taking on this challenge and raising much needed funds."

THE team at an animal sanctuary based in Holmeswood are appealing for potential adopters to consider giving a forever loving home to a guinea pig.

Sally McDerby from Woodlands Animal Sanctuary on Sandy Lane said: "They could be classed as one of the cuter and cuddlier types of rodent – depending on how you feel about rats and mice!"

"We take in, unwanted, abandoned and neglected guinea pigs, rehabilitate them, neuter where needed and re-home them to suitable and vetted homes.

"As with all the work we do, we have strict procedures and criteria they follow to ensure, as best as they can, that the new homes the animals in their care set off to are going to be suitable and the best one for each animal as possible.

"They are very sociable little critters and as such should be kept in small groups to avoid loneliness which can lead to illness. As with any animal, big or small they are a big responsibility and commitment, with a life span of potentially nearly up to a decade!

"They require a minimum living space of a 6ft hutch with a 6ft run and ideally should be in groups of at least three but an absolute minimum of two. This is so that should something happen to one guinea, the other is not left alone."

"In the wild, these animals would tend to live in close family groups of between five-10 individuals, with these groups often living close together to form colonies."

Skem and Linnets exit FA Vase early

THE route to Wembley for Skelmersdale United and Burscough through the FA Vase ended before it really started as both teams fell at the first hurdle on Saturday, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Skem lost 2-1 at home to Stockport Town and Burscough were knocked out on a penalty shoot-out after their tie against Hallam ended 1-1 at full-time.

There was a healthy turnout on a sunny afternoon at the JMO Sports Park in expectation that Skelmersdale could continue their FA Cup form in the FA Vase, and even when Skem went behind in the ninth minute there seemed no need to worry, as then have recovered from going behind in both their FA Cup victories.

They went behind after Skelmersdale defender Daniel Murphy didn't deal very well with a long ball onto the 18 yard line and the ball fell to Aaron Knight who slotted home.

Skem suffered a big blow on 24 minutes when what is best described as a nasty challenge by Stockport full-back Zydane McCarthy-Brooks put influential Skem midfielder Josh Peet out of the game.

On 54 minutes it became a far tougher task for Skem when Lee Grimshaw finished clinically to make the score 2-0.

Skem pulled back a deserved goal on 85 minutes but tempers then became raised and yellow cards were waved before Brodie received a red one for an incident on the halfway line and the score remained 2-1.

Over in South Yorkshire, Burscough had taken the lead on 40 minutes at Hallam, Josh Quarless lobbing

Burscough's match went to extra time. Picture by Lucy Bell the ball over the advancing home goalkeeper to give the Linnets the lead.

Burscough's cause was severely hindered ten minutes into the second-half when experienced central midfielder Kevin Pollard was dismissed after an altercation with Hallam's Chris Wood followed by a number of players from both teams receiving yellow cards.

On the hour Hallam levelled but the Linnets maintained their organisation and held on fairly well for the rest of the game.

The competition rules because of Covid resulted in the match going to penalties straight after the 90 minutes and Burscough missed two and were knocked out.

Skem United and Burscough do not have games this weekend.

Five door hatchback is now an all-electric load-lugger

RENAULT'S all-electric Zoe is now available as a van.

The five-door hatchback's been transformed into a load-lugger capable of carrying up to 387kg, and has the same 245 mile range on a charge.

It also retains the rear doors of its passenger-carrying cousin to make loads easier to access, although the windows have been deactivated and covered in an opaque film for security purposes.

It'll be available to order from next month, with prices starting at £25,500.

Left: Renault says that its Zoe Van has the same range as its car cousin Nobody wondered how Wordsworth kept himself warm after wandering around lonely as a cloud, did they?

WILLIAM Wordsworth, were he scrawling socially distanced sonnets in 2020, would almost certainly have wifi and gas central heating wired in at Dove Cottage.

Nobody wondered how Britain's favourite poet kept himself warm after wandering lonely as a cloud, did they? It's background detail.

So I reckon, by the same token, it's entirely fair that the latest reincarnation of a Sixties icon isn't entirely hot on historical accuracy.

The Moke – and it is only a Moke, with no references to any other small cars of the Sixties, for any BMW-bankrolled lawyers who might be reading – is supposed to be the direct descendant of the 1964 original, which was intended to be a lightweight military vehicle but ended up being better known as the weird taxis in The Prisoner.

Only this one's not to scale. To make it 2020-friendly, its makers have made it a teeny bit bigger.

It's also no longer powered by a leaky old A-series engine – it's now powered by a fuel-injected 1.4-litre engine, hooked up to a four-speed automatic. You also don't have to look terribly hard to find it doesn't share much of the old Mini's innards, either; where fans of the original Moke would have been bouncing along on rubber cone suspension, the new one's kitted out with coil springs.

The steering's now power-assisted and the windscreen's heated.

Just about the only concession it doesn't make to modernity is that it doesn't come equipped with ABS.

It also costs a not terribly Sixties-esque £20,000, and that's before taxes, so your reimagined Moke is going to cost roughly the same as a brand new Focus.

Yet I reckon its makers will sell plenty of them, and to people who care not one jot that it's exactly hot on the period details. I'll bet loads of you have listened to Rubber Soul or Pet Sounds at some point over the last few months, but did you make sure was authentically Sixties by sampling it on vinyl? Of course you didn't – you streamed it, clicked the relevant MP3 file or – if you're a really old fart – dug out a CD.

It's still Sixties nostalgia, but the medium doesn't make a jot of difference.

It's the same with the Moke, which is sufficiently true to the original's pared-down outlook that 99 per cent of people either won't know or won't care that it's been made easier to live with on today's roads.

That's without even mentioning the single most important detail for anyone who wants to throw caution to the wind, cancel their deposit on that Ford Focus, and buy a Sixties throwback with no roof, no doors and no carpets. And then use it in Britain. The seats are waterproof...

David Simister is the editor of Classic Car Weekly

The new Moke is bigger and more high-tech than the 1960s original

New Volkswagen to cover 310 miles on a single charge

VOLKSWAGEN is all set to launch the second of its ID-branded all-electric cars, following the Golf-sized ID.3 hatchback.

The ID.4, which should be here next year, uses the same underpinnings but in a higher, SUV-style body, which thanks to clever aerodynamics claims to be able to cover 310 miles on a single charge.

There's no word on UK prices yet, but expect it to command more than the £38,190 currently charged for an entry-level ID.3.
